Parent-Teachers' Association

An executive meeting of the Parent Teachers' Association was held on Monday evening, October 29th, at the home of Ryan. Plans for the fall were discussed and some decisions arrived at which will be of interest to all.

It was decided to make the membership fee fifty cents per family this year instead of fifty cents each parent as previously. Fees are again due and the executive wishes to urge all former members to renew their membership and those who did not before belong are cordially invited to join.

Membership cards may be obtained from any of the executive, or if parents will send their fees with the children to the teacher cards for 1928-29 will be forwarded to them.

The United Church is securing the services of Dr. Tuttle of St. Stephen's College for Thanksgiving, and the P.T.A., feeling that the lecture will be both interesting and instructive, has promised its support, so it is hoped that all members will go to hear Dr. Tuttle.

Mention has before been made of the fact that drivers exceed the speed limit in passing the school. The executive has decided that further action should be taken in the matter. Drivers who persist in this course of action will receive a personal warning and if this is not heeded further action will be taken.

Royal Purple Dance Big Attraction

Local interest in the big dance at Carmangay on Oct. 24th under the auspices of the ladies of the Royal Purple is very marked. In evidence and all indications point to one of the most pleasant evenings that will come the way of trippers of the light fantastic. Preparations for the event are complete in every detail according to those in charge. This is an event you simply can't afford to miss.

The lack of housing accommodation in town is leading to efforts being made by individuals to provide their own houses. During the week A. Versailles moved a building from the corner on to lots north of Mr. Depue's residence and it is understood others will follow his example.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The community hall proposition is in a very critical position under present circumstances with a Masonic hall being considered. Elementally there is no reason that both should not be built, but it is hard to believe that one will not interfere largely with the other, as beyond the diversion of at least two revenue paying lodges, there is also the fact that very many will not feel able to make two donations for hall purposes. No one will feel like putting anything in the way of the building of a Masonic hall. This is desirable in every way and much nearer achievement than is the building of a community hall. There is a feeling in many quarters that the Elks missed the best opportunity that will ever occur to put the community hall proposition over. This may be so but the question still remains as to whether both buildings can be financed. The Masons need satisfactory quarters and the community needs a hall very badly. It is really a pity that the same building should not provide accommodation for all the lodges and at the same time a hall suitable for community purposes. There is reason to believe that every care should be used in the solution of this matter. Community achievement is always made largely from individual and group sacrifice, and loss of cohesion is always a very serious matter.

With the completion of the new school building the Champion Consolidated school district will be housed as satisfactorily as could well be possible. The addition of a teacher to the staff at the beginning of the present term should also improve conditions. To realize the greatest amount of good from the expenditure involved there must be co-operation between school board, teachers and parents. In this connection the Parent-Teacher association is taking an interest which cannot fail to result satisfactorily to every one concerned. To provide buildings and teachers and then forget all about them or their accomplishments would be largely a waste of money.

Primarily the parents are the most interested parties in the success of the school and their co-operation with the teachers and board should be voluntary and consistent. Towards this end the Parent-Teacher association provides a common meeting ground where many problems may be solved and practical assistance rendered. The organization has taken a new lease of life this year and general support will keep it flourishing.

Acting under instructions from the Department of Education the school board is out to collect arrears of school taxes in the Champion Consolidated School District. While arrears of taxes may be unavoidable altogether there is no room for ignoring the fact that the arrears in this school district were entirely too extensive. It is naturally a matter of regret that it should be necessary for the board to insist on payment, the ratepayers in arrears are primarily to blame in this matter.

The German dirigible has made a successful flight across the Atlantic from east to west, carrying a crew of forty men and twenty passengers and a quantity of mail. How soon this type of airship would be possible for use in commercial purposes is hard to conjecture, but that the day is coming when the air will be a big factor in transportation there can be no doubt.

While the relief afforded by the receipt of empty cars is still very temporary it is hoped that near future will see the wheat movement accelerated to a considerable extent. Naturally every little helps, and while it is bound to take some little time to handle all the wheat in sight, much of this is satisfactorily housed in granaries on the farms. It is the grain on the ground and in temporary granaries that causes anxiety.

The unbroken weather experienced during the almost entire threshing period this year made a big difference in the necessary purchases of the men in the way of clothing, etc., and the bulk of them were able to get through with trifling acquisitions in the way of wearing apparel. This was for from being as good, however, for the purveyors of this class of goods, and trade of this kind naturally shows a big falling off from several previous seasons. In addition the combines decreased noticeably the number of men required and the length of the threshing season, and further restricted sales.

The Mayor is sometimes called the Chief Magistrate, the First Gentleman of the Community and many other high sounding names, but it must be understood that these refer to the office and not the occupant, otherwise one would suspect sarcasm, for the truth is, that next to the Tax Collector, who is in a class all by himself, the Mayor is generally the best abused man in the community.—Municipal Research Bulletin.

The Farmer and the Research Worker

The prairie provinces of Canada have completed the harvesting and threshing of the greatest grain crop in the history of Canada, judged from the standards of quality and quantity. It is conservatively estimated that the wheat crop alone will be larger than the record crop of 1928, and that the other principal grains, oats, rye, barley and flax, will add to another 500,000 bushels to the total bringing Canada's grain yield for the first time within measurable distance of a billion bushel crop.

In almost every respect the season of 1929 was ideal from the standpoint of weather, growing, cutting and threshing, and the acreage seeded showed a substantial increase over former years. There was an absence of rust and other parasites, ample moisture, taking the country as a whole and generally an absence of those conditions which result in a lowering of yield. The only fly in the ointment was the killing frost of the third week in August which damaged the young town crops and those which from one cause or another had not matured. The result was disastrous from the standpoint of grades, and consequently materially lowering in prices of a large part of the total production.

According to a rough estimate of the Saskatchewan crop it is stated that about one-third of the wheat will be of the contract grades of 1, 2 and 3 northern, the remaining one-third will be of grade number 4, and that the remaining one-third will grade below that figure.

It is within the power of our farmers to partly offset the losses occasioned by dry seasons through the adoption of the most scientific methods of farming; they can increase yields and grades by using good, clean seed and by waging continuous warfare on noxious weeds; they can insure their crops against hail. But they stand helpless before the icy clutch of Jack Frost.

Addressing the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, at Regina, recently, Hon. W. J. Mothertell said he knew of only one way to beat out Jack Frost, and that was to get ahead of him. He had reference to the development of wheat with earlier ripening qualities. In this connection, he made mention of the work of Dr. C. E. P. Biggs, director of the Bureau of the Office of the Vice, and brought the cheering message that as a result of the experiments this year with Garnet and Reward, there was every expectation that a further notable advance would be made. According to Mr. Mothertell, Garnet and Reward wheat was grown by farmers in the prairie provinces under the direction of the Department of Agriculture, in over 90 per cent. of cases Reward was safely in stock before the August frost. He expressed himself as quite hopeful that western farmers would yet be in a position when they could and would beat out Jack Frost.

Experiments have been conducted for some time past to determine to what extent the growing processes of wheat affects milling and baking qualities, and recent experiments indicate that the effect, if any, of the quality of the wheat is not seriously affected.

Now the Universities of the three prairie provinces and the Dominion research officials are engaged in determining the effect which frost has on milling and baking qualities. Farmers of farmers for years have had the experience of marketing their wheat and getting a low price for the bushel but which, because of frost effect on the chaff, has been graded away below what would otherwise have been obtained. Rightly or wrongly there is an impression that this frost, while marring the appearance of the kernel, does not seriously affect the quality, and that the producer is sustaining a loss all out of proportion to the amount of damage done the grain; that is, the more the farmer loses, the miller gains because he secures good milling wheat at a much less cost. The scientists are now striving to get at the real truth of the matter.

Thus are research workers for Governments and Universities working hand in hand with the farmers in endeavoring to advance the interests and welfare of agriculture—through the development of earlier ripening grain, the reduction of losses, and in developing added areas of production and from the transmogrification of grain. The effort is to save hundreds of millions of dollars to the agriculturists of Canada.

Canada is spending more-money than ever before in scientific research work, and the Dominion Government announces that such expenditures will be still further increased. No body of men in the Dominion stands to gain more from such work and expenditures than do the farmers of the West. The whole weight of their influence should be back of this enlightened policy.

WHEN YOUR BABY CATCHES A COLD

In spite of all precautions little ones will take colds—especially during the changeable days of autumn. When the first symptoms appear—sneezing, redness of the nose, runny nose, etc.—the baby should be given a cold. They will rapidly break up the cold and prevent more serious complications.

Mothers who keep a box of Baby Oil on hand will find it a great aid. In fact they are like having a doctor in the house. They are a gentle, though lanolin oil which eases the nostrils and regulates the bowels, thus driving out constipation and aiding in the healing and relieving of the many glandular movements which are the direct result of colds, especially of the nose or other stomach. These movements are safe—guaranteed to contain your youngest baby. They cannot possibly do harm—they always do good.

Oil—One ounce will be sold by all medical dealers and will be sent by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brooklyn, Ont.

Not a New Business

Evidence of run-newing 13 years ago has been found in the 13th century. In 1300, in a house in Mobile, Alabama, custom agents, searching through old papers, found a tiny scrap of paper—evidently the last paragraph of a letter—informing federal agents of the discovery of 143 quarts of presumably liquor, submerged in a marsh.

Shortage Of Butter

Canadian Production Not Keeping Up With Domestic Requirements

J. A. Culander, President of the National Dairy Council of Canada, told delegates to the annual meeting of the Canadian Milk and Dairymen's Association, that Canadian production this year would be 15,000,000 or 20,000,000 pounds short of supplying her own butter requirements. The dairy industry has not kept pace with heretofore, he said, and Canada had the highest capita consumption of butter in the world—approximately 25 pounds a year.

BY ALEX PHILIP

James thought, "I will go now to give you the chance to have a playful flick of her whip toward who she was off like an arrow."

Donald turned to his friend. "I hope that you are satisfied now that you have made an astute out of me."

"Very happy, old dear. I didn't find it a hard job."

Donald laughed. "I'll race you to the gym."

As the bout was to take place on Monday, this was to be the last day of training. Donald had no time to see Donald in his work-outs admitted that he had wonderful speed, but would be unable to stay the twenty rounds with the formidable Garrison. The secret of the knowing was that it was not that there was a mangle leg, hand to hit the laurels from the champion who possessed the virtue of the terrible punch.

To the boxer training is a trying ordeal. It is not only the constant keep-punching, rope-skipping and padded work becomes monotonous. The nerves become frayed, and if the weight has to be materially reduced the boxer develops a bad temper and is angry.

As Donald prepared for rest that night he was hit with relief that the morrow would be a day of rest. "Til the glad when it's over," he mused. His meditation was interrupted by a tap on the door. "I am answer to his invitation to come in. The door opened and a small man of unprepossessing appearance entered.

The visitor was indeed a most repulsive man, of uncertain age, and with skin of a sickly yellow. One eye was slightly swollen, and due to an accident during a football game. Those familiar with his shady past averred that it was caused by the vigorous application of an adversary's thumb to a bare hand during a bar-room brawl.

"Tom Garrison's manager," he said importantly.

"What do you want?" demanded Donald shortly.

"Now, see here, Kid. We've got a dead cinch to you to change. It's a well-known fact that you are a champion in the world to beat a slugger. Get me? Well, here ain't a bit of sense as to slugger beaten you up for nuttin', so we're bound to do. Do by yourself with the den of Sanger, so we're bound to do. You're bound to get 'em round, so we give de fars a run for dore money. We gets all de money we can beg, borrow and steal and puts it all down to win."

"You can take de drop a couple of times, and den goes down de slugger. De fans will just eat it up. De tent round will you stan' toin' to de tent, den de last minute you sends me a telegram, and I'll be there, so we'll think it's on de square. Den in a mont' we gets a return fight and we pulls off de 'grudge stuff' and we packs de house. Of course, we have to win, and all our money will be placed on de Slugger. Dat means dat we can't change twice. Get me?" His ugly lips parted in what he considered as an effort to show that he would be club tomorrow and we rehearses de whole thing. Get me?"

Donald's face turned pale with rage. "I get you," you damned little son of a gun. I'll see the next one. Pissed by the colour. I'll speak to his feet, drag him to the door, and threw him out with such force that he struck the wall with a thump and fell in a heap in the floor. The boy's teeth showed his yellow teeth. A hand held out from the gloaming orb. "We'll kill you Monday, you —" The air was filled with the silent obligations.

Donald turned to his friend. "The wind was opened and the air was as though to rid the room of the air his visitor had breathed. "I never dreamed there was so much rottenness in the shape of a human being."

He said nothing, but when he reached the other side of the city, Douglas was a towering a boxer, but of a very different type. He had just entered his room when he heard his sister's voice.

"May I come in a minute, Doug?" Janet came to the point quickly. "Who is this Mr. McLean who was with you today?"

"That was me," Donald McLean, he answered evasively.

"You know what I mean. Who is he? What is he. Where does he come from?"

"Do be serious, Doug."

"It is a serious matter, Sis."

"I think he is interesting," she replied hesitatingly.

"So you do. Do you think he is the right man?" said Douglas warily.

"Well, you haven't answered my question yet," persisted Janet.

For all his fluency of speech Douglas was for the moment nonplussed. "Let's see, what was the first question?" He was sparing for time.

"I'm not a boxer, Doug. Where did you meet him?"

"It's been a long time ago through an intimate friend of mine," he said.

"I'm sorry," said Douglas warily.

"Well, you haven't answered my question yet," persisted Janet.

ranks, the open ten, from the select ringards seats to the topmost rail Judges, doctors and bankers sat with labourers, miners, loggers bartenders, and bootblacks. Men of the underworld sat side by side with those that made and maintained our laws. There was a sparkling of Japs, Chinamen and negroes. The turbaned Hindu made bright patches of colour here and there in the vast sea of faces. Of class distinction there was none, all wedged as one in the love of the boxing game.

The preliminaries were over, and the vast crowd had settled in their places. Down the aisle on the west side of the arena came Don aid, followed by Andy and the two seconds, the latter carrying buckets splices, towels and bandages. Donald, a dark-skinned, bald-headed, burly fellow, threw over his shoulders. There was a murmur of applause that swelled to a tumult as he clambered through the ropes. He seemed cool as a cucumber, but when the crowd, who had been down and stretched out his long legs, he appeared ill at ease.

Although the crowd had given him a handsome welcome, prophecies were shouted down from the top seats that he would not last long. The formation changed. Donald was palpably nervous, as evidenced in the quick turning of his head and the shuffling of his feet. He looked right and left and he leaned back, his hands clasped behind his robe accumulating the pallor of his face. A feeling of friendlessness came over him as he gazed at the huge strange crowd who were loudly predicting his defeat.

A robed, brown-jacketed, weeping gimp and a big black hat, turned to his companion. "I've a hangon shame, Tom, to match that silly boy with a brute like Garrison."

The next addition to the list of the Ch's leading denials and an ardent boxing fan. "Don't you believe it, Bill," he returned. "Just wait until you see this boy strip."

"He's been come,"

A round of unanimous greeted the champion as he came down the east aisle bowing right and left in answer to their plaudits. The dark man's body seemed fiery to shine as he moved. His hands and fingers of grace slipped off his robes. He stood in his corner with his hands on the ropes, shuffling his feet in the resin, still smiling and glancing about the arena. Evidently he loved the light.

Cleopatra's Needle In Position Fifty Years

Queen Victoria Was Interested In Its Arrival At London

It is 50 years since Cleopatra's Needle was set on the Thames Embankment in London, England.

The event in question in which was increased by an adventurous voyage that nearly wrecked the enterprise, aroused the interest of thousands of Londoners. Every day the public could witness the arrival of the obelisk from Alexandria, towed by the Channel fleet.

By using hydraulic rams, the stone was hoisted into position on a half hour in time. At 3.30 it was upright, and a wild cheer rose from the crowd as the Union Jack and the Egyptian flag were run up on flagstaffs nearby.

The obelisk was set to remind posterity of the life of early Victorians, placed at the base.

A railway guide, in different languages, a folding table, a razor, a pencil, a pen, a book of matches, photographs of a dozen pretty Englishwomen presented by Captain Henry Carter, a set of coins, a pound weight, a foot measure and sundry articles of female apparel, were among the articles deposited.

Queen Victoria was so interested that when the obelisk arrived, an official statement was issued that she was "well satisfied by the safe arrival of the Needle."

Although brought to England only 50 years ago, Cleopatra's Needle, which has no connection with Cleopatra, was presented to the British nation by the Egyptian government. All in 1850.

Two sets of plumb-weights, one black through exposure, was erected at Helipolis by Thutmose or Thutmose II, a sovereign of the 18th Dynasty about 1500 B.C. and dedicated to Tut of Helipolis.

HARVESTER PLAN WAS A SUCCESS STATES AMERY

London, England. — Satisfaction that the great majority of British miner harvester were employed under satisfactory conditions and that reports of generally bad treatment could be substantiated is expressed by Right Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, secretary of state for the dominions, in a letter to Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, chairman of the Labor party, made public yesterday.

Mr. Amery's letter was in reply to one from Mr. Henderson in which the former home secretary said the attention of the national executive committee of the Labor party had been drawn to "a series of statements" regarding conditions under which the miners were employed and the treatment they received in Western Canada.

All that was sent from England to Canada, and was sent three to deal with sickness and cases of genuine personal misfortune, Mr. Amery said. He mentioned that no harvester was adversely affected under the national scheme.

"No doubt there is a certain degree of hardship have occurred—and indeed ability to face some degree of hardship is indispensable—but I am satisfied that the general complaint of bad treatment can be substantiated," Mr. Amery wrote.

"I am also satisfied that the great majority of harvester got work under satisfactory conditions."

Machine Forced To Land and One Man Reported Killed

Toronto.—A special despatch to the Toronto Star from The P. S. May says that a small plane of an exploration party is dead, and another badly frozen as a result of a 'plane crash in the forest landing in the Hudson Bay area.

The North American Mineral Exploring prospecting party is dead and another prospector is badly frozen and is in a critical condition according to a report reaching The P. S. May.

Word of the precarious position of the men on the plane was radioed to a Dominion government tug operating in the Hudson Bay area. It was rushed to the scene of the wreck and was able to rescue six of the men on the plane. The name of the pilot in charge has not yet been learned.

"As soon as word of the fatality reached here Captain Oaks was sent out to plane to render all help possible."

Mr. Homan intimated that these replies would be submitted to parliament at the next session. The minister refused to divulge the views of the provinces in the matter.

London, Eng.—Winston Churchill, leader of the exchequer, who gained a reputation as a bricklayer while working in the building operations at his home in Kent last summer, has made himself with his fellow craftsmen by joining the Amalgamated Union of Building Trade Workers. ### New Varieties Of Seed Wheat Ready

For Garnet and Reward Greater Than Supply

Ottawa.—Nearly 25,000 bushels of seed wheat, for garnet and reward varieties will be supplied by the Department of Agriculture this year, it is stated.

Mr. Homan, a copy of the report mentioning the entrance fee of five shillings a week, a weekly contribution of nine pence.

Under the regulations any one employing the exchequer as a bricklayer in the future must pay him the minimum wage.

The new varieties were developed by L. H. Newson, Dominion cerealist, at the experimental farm here. The grain ripens from seven to ten days earlier than other varieties.

Last year's sale of seed grain amounted to approximately 8,000 bushels. So far, however, the results have been that this year's production at the experimental farm will not nearly meet the demand. It is sold to the farmer at $3 per bushel.

Sam Jopling was a business visitor to Calgary during the past week.

Mrs. T. R. Jopling was the hostess at a largely attended afternoon tea on Tuesday.

Mrs. G. M. Campbell was in Calgary last week, making the trip with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Anderson.

Threshing was again in progress this week, some outfits, including combines, beginning operations on Tuesday.

L. W. Church was a visitor in town on Tuesday. He still has a considerable amount of road work to complete in the Threshing district.

Miss Cameron, of the Consolidated school staff, is ill and is being relieved by Mrs. H. C. Jopling until she is again able to resume her duties.

Miss Gladys Woodhall, of Granum, was ill at her home here during the past week, leaving for the Granum school on Sunday.

The resumption of threshing operations was halted again by a shower on Wednesday morning, just heavy enough to make the grain too wet to thresh.

Mummy's is the latest affliction to be going the rounds in this vicinity and quite a number both in town and country have had to submit to modified quarantine.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Anderson and J. D. Henderson spent last week in Calgary, business and pleasure featuring the trip, which we are informed was a very successful one.

Gunder Nerison is still in the General Hospital in Calgary where he is reported to be improving slowly. Many friends here will be pleased to see him around again.

W. F. Bozarth is discontinuing farming operations this fall and he will hold an auction sale some time during November and offer his complete line of farming equipment for sale.

The roads are rapidly getting into shape again after the snow storm, although very rough in places yet. The worst pieces of road occur in every instance where there was summer-fallow to the north of the road.

Our thanks are due to those who responded to the suggestion that the present was a good time to get rid of small obligations such as a newspaper subscription. Most of the delay in regard to the settlement of this small amount is due to forgetfulness and it is hoped a continued reminder will not be long necessary. A large number of small amounts make a big total and it is the big total we would like to see.

Recent Farm Sales Indicate Confidence In District

Two important farm sales have taken place in this district recently. John Hartung has purchased R. Tyler's half section, ten miles east of Champion, the consideration being $35.00 per acre, while P. Fritter has acquired 490 acres from F. H. Bennett, paying $32.50 per acre. When the present price of grain is considered and the distance from town there are very satisfactory prices and would indicate there is no wavering in the confidence of farmers in this section.

Mrs. Therriault to Hold Clearing Sale

Mrs. M. A. Therriault is preparing for a clearing out sale to begin about Oct. 26th, when the remainder of her stock will be offered at exceptionally favorable prices. While her stock has been reduced considerably in the past few months there is still a large quantity of goods to be disposed of, which will undoubtedly furnish a decided opportunity for thrifty buyers in this vicinity.

Since the above was written Mrs. Therriault has decided to postpone the opening of the sale to the first week in November.
